A container is a standard unit of software that packages up code and all its dependencies so the application runs quickly and reliably from one computing environment to another.

The meaning of CONTAINER is one that contains. How to use container in a sentence.

A container, or software container, is a standalone package of software that bundles together application code with the operating system libraries and dependencies required to run it.

A container is any receptacle or enclosure for holding an item. Things kept inside of a container are protected on several sides by being inside of its structure.
